

Graduate Student

Academic Success & Professional Development Series

FALL 2008

Electronic Theses and Dissertations

Thursday, September 25, 2008 ~ 4:30–5:30 pm ~ Marvin Center 301

Did you know that use of the GW / Proquest website is mandatory for dissertations and will be required for theses in Spring 2009? Come to this workshop to learn how to use the website to submit your completed thesis and dissertations electronically. The session also includes a discussion of the issues surrounding electronic theses and dissertations, as well as a demonstration of the submission process.

Presenters: Steven Mandeville-Gamble, Associate University Librarian for Collections & Scholarly Communication, Gelman Library; Carol Sigelman, Associate Vice President for Graduate Studies & Academic Affairs

Negotiating Employment Opportunities, Employment Terms, and Other Critical Relationships

Monday, October 6, 2008 ~ 5:00 – 6:30 pm ~ Marvin Center 301

How, inside or outside the University, can you effectively negotiate to obtain employment and to enhance your employment terms? How can you use your negotiating skills to maintain other important relationships?

Presenter: Charles Carver, Freda H. Alverson Professor of Law; author of Effective Legal Negotiation and Settlement (5th ed. 2005 LEXIS) and The Intelligent Negotiator (2002 Prima/Crown); co-author of Legal Negotiating (Thomson/West 2007).

Funding Your Dissertation Research

Tuesday, October 14, 2008 ~ 4:00 – 5:30 pm ~ Marvin Center 101

Come learn about specific competitive programs that can provide funds for doctoral dissertation research, as well as funding search strategies and tips for successful proposals.

Presenters: Geri Rypkema, Director, and Amy Levine, Fellowship Coordinator, Office of Graduate Student Assistantships and Fellowships

Electronic Theses and Dissertations

Thursday, November 13, 2008 ~ 5:00 – 6:00 pm ~ Marvin Center 413/414

Did you know that use of the GW / Proquest website is mandatory for dissertations and will be required for theses in Spring 2009? Come to this workshop to learn how to use the website to submit your completed thesis and dissertations electronically. The session also includes a discussion of the issues surrounding electronic theses and dissertations, as well as a demonstration of the submission process.

Presenters: Steven Mandeville-Gamble, Associate University Librarian for Collections & Scholarly Communication, Gelman Library; Carol Sigelman, Associate Vice President for Graduate Studies & Academic Affairs